Close Shave In Australia by Natsuko Fujimaru

It was close!! This was a scream of Mr. David Beckham. On January 30th, 2007, when two airplanes came to crashing over the Great Barrier Reef. One of them was a flight from Sydney to Perth, 101. The other one was a flight from Sydney to Tokyo, 109. Both of the planes were having uneventful journeys. However, at 7:30am, Flight 109 started flying at a faster speed than usual. The pilot, Orlando Bloom didn't realize that there was a plane ahead of his plane (Flight 109). Few minutes later, Mr. Bloom (29) finally realized of Flight 101 and told the workers on the ground to tell the pilot of Flight 101, Johnny Depp to change direction. Flight 109 tried to slow down, but It couldn't because Mr. Bloom didn't want his attendants to become worried. The workers tried to make contact with Flight 101, but they couldn't reach it in time.

At 8:00am, two airplanes started getting closer. They had a close shave!! Air Traffic Controller, tom Hanks on the ground held his breath until the last moment, still trying to reach Flight 101. He shivered. Mr. Bloom grabbed the handle and did his best to avoid a crash.

It was shown to people all over the world by TV News. The police are now investigating the cause of this Incident and they are predicting that the cause was fuel related.
